DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-22, 27-36 and 45-47 are drawn to a vaccine, classified in class 424, subclass 184.1.
 - II. Claims 23-26 are drawn to a method of making an oral vaccine, class 435, subclass 41.
 - III. Claims 37-42 are drawn to a method for treating, classified in class 424 subclass 234.1 .
 - IV. Claims 43-44 are drawn to a fish and edible product class 424, subclass 429.

Art Unit: 1645

2. Groups I and II are related as product and process of making. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown : (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP 806.06(f)). In the instant case, the method of Group II can be used to make another protein that is materially distinct from the Aeromonas hydrophila major adhesion protein (AHMA).
3. Groups I and III are product and process of using. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a material different process (MPEP 806.05(h)). In the instant case the inventions of Group IV may be used for a number of different processes that are very much unrelated. For example, the product of Group I can be used to make antibodies.
4. Groups I and IV are different products. The inventions are patentably distinct, each from the other, because they are distinct products, which are different structurally and functionally.
5. Groups II and III are different methods. They differ because they have different goals, require different method steps and parameters.

6. Groups II and IV are related as process of using and product used. The products of Group IV is not required for the method of Group II. The Groups are materially distinct and independent from each other as claimed.

7. Groups III and IV are product and process of using. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a material different process (MPEP 806.05(h)). In the instant case the inventions of Group IV may be used for a number of different processes that are very much unrelated. For example, the products of Group IV can be used as edible products for commercial sale.

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Moreover, in the absence of restriction it would place an undue search and examination burden on the examiner.

9. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

10. Applicant is reminded that upon that upon cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. 1.17(h).

11. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

12. A telephone call was made to CANTOR, BERNARD J. on August 19, 2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.
